SUBJECT:

Travel Order
- Travel Order

1. FE Division is requesting your approval of the shipment by subjects of household and personal effects up to the limit suitable to the grade and family status of the employees concerned if they had not occupied furnished quarters, although, in fact, both employees do occupy furnished quarters at the present time. The authority for such approval would be

2. You have granted <sup>25X1C</sup> similar approval in the cases of (Travel Order ) and (Travel Order ). In both of the approved cases the employees had been in the field continuously as civilian employees of CIA or other Government agencies for about 10 years. As this Office commented in a memorandum to you on 16 April 1956 concerning the case of "He is one of a total of perhaps five persons in the FE area caught abroad with a weight of household effects in excess of that now authorized for shipment by persons occupying furnished Government quarters."

3. The rationale for such approval was stated in the 16 April 1956 memorandum referred to above: "In the rewrite of the travel regulations, a savings clause is being inserted for the purpose of avoiding undue personal hardship and financial loss to persons in subject's circumstances. The Deputy Director (Support) has approved such a clause in principle. Since the new regulations have not yet been published, your approval of this case is requested through signature on the travel order."

4. This same rationale would justify approval in the case of who has been in as a Government employee since March 1946 and has been an Agency employee in since October of 1951.

5. This rationale would not justify approval in the case of who went to on 24 April 1952 as a CIA employee. He went to in expectation of occupying furnished quarters and, in fact, has actually occupied furnished quarters continuously until the present time. Consequently, his case does not present the hardship elements of those other cases that have been recommended for approval, and would not fall under the savings clause to be provided in the pending regulations.
